Dear Mr Aisher;

I have sorted out my thoughts concerning the WAVIONIX Procedure designer and I offer the following comment:

I am pleased to endorse the Wavionix Procedure designer as the most practical procedures design software I have observed. It is easy to use and is accurate. It should eliminate calculation and graphic errors. Perhaps the feature that excites me most is that the program makes NO decisions. All decisions remain the prerogative of the Procedures Designer. Ralph Sexton and I feel that this is very important as RNAV and GNSS implementation progresses. The geodesic calculator incorporated in the WAVIONIX system should help the specialist cope with the various reference systems while assuring the accuracy of the procedure in WGS-84 as adopted by ICAO.
